

Old World Wisconsin

by Paula Matzek

The month of May brings the reopening for the year of Old World Wisconsin, a historic site and photographers' paradise in Eagle, Wisconsin. On May 15, two Old World "veterans" (Marlene and Paula) and two "newbies" (Patty and Nancy) spent the day there shooting hundreds of photos. The day was overcast but free of rain, and the soft, diffused light was perfect for many of the shots that the foursome took. The costumed interpreters were friendly, informative, and very willing to be photographed. Patty and Nancy now know what the enthusiasm for Old World Wisconsin is all about and are eager to return. Look for another outing to OWW to be scheduled by Ray Perry for some time in June.

Old World Wisconsin is open 10:00 to 3:00 on weekdays (10:00 to 5:00 from June 14 to Sept. 8), 10:00 to 5:00 on Saturdays, and noon to 5:00 on Sundays. Upcoming special events include vintage baseball (June 13, July 18, and August 15), Midsummer Magic (an evening food and music event) on June 20, an early morning wildflower walk on June 27, and a Scandinavian Midsummer Celebration also on June 27.
